Sunday, June 4, 2023

Thank you to all who helped with the church mulching Wednesday. It was a big help to have trucks and trailers driving around the grounds to distribute the mulch. Many hands made the work go quickly. Afterwards the crew enjoyed ice-cream Sundays and good fellowship.

Do you have the gift of organization, planning, or project knowledge? We are looking for a group of individuals to continue the children's dream of updating the playground. This team will be tasked with visualizing, planning, and presenting a plan for updating the outdoor facilities. Please contact Donna Reed if you are interested.

The Education Team, on behalf of the congregation, is pleased to announce that the 2023 Education Grant is going to Laura Meiser for her continuing theological study.

God doesn't call the qualified; He qualifies the called

As you are able, please write your answers to the following questions on each paper strip.

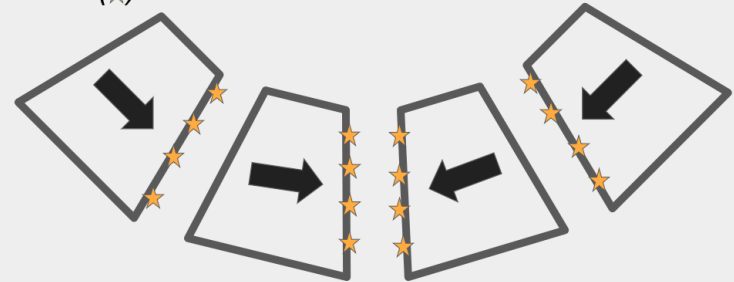

PINK: How has God qualified you for a situation in the past?

BLUE: Where do you feel God calling you now?

GREEN: How may God qualify you for that calling?

After the questions are answered, please assemble a paper chain with those next to you using the provided stapler/tape.

Please pass your chains towards the center aisle for collection (★) as shown below.

Announcements

Calling all softball fans!

Hempfield COB has two softball games this week. Friday 6:30 pm against Manheim Brethren at East Fairview Brethren Church and Friday 7:15pm against Dove – Blue at East Fairview Church of the Brethren. The team would greatly appreciate the support from the church and hopes to see as many as possible make it out to the games.

The classroom down the hall in the educational wing needs a name. Do you want to help to give it an identity? Come, join the fun. There are voting slips and a drop box available on the Narthex table. Give your best idea before June 18th. Be creative. Who knows?.....the room could actually bear your name!!
