COMMUNAL CONFESSION

Leader: As your servant Job, we have doubted and challenged You. We see the world, our work, our families, our classmates through finite eyes and acted, spoke from our broken flesh. We now turn to you and confess:

People: We know that You can do all things, and that no purpose of Yours can be thwarted.

Leader: The Lord asks, 'Who is this that hides counsel without knowledge?'

People: We declared that which we did not understand, Things too wonderful for us, which we did not know.

Leader: The Lord says, 'Hear, now, and I will speak; I will ask You, and You instruct me.'

People: We have heard of You by the hearing of the ear; But now our eyes see You; we each proclaim: I retract, and I repent in dust and ashes. For dust I am, and to dust I will return.

Leader: By the blood of Christ, His death on the cross, and the power of His resurrection, you are forgiven. As He invites you, come to be anointed. Amen.

Announcements

Sunday School This Week:

If someone asked you to explain the gospel, what would you say? What is the good news of the Christian faith? Writing to the Galatians, Paul made it clear how easily we can be tempted to turn toward fraudulent gospels, especially those that teach we can earn God's love through our works. Though they may have the appearance of truth, they are lifeless and leave us empty in the end.

In this Book of the Bible series, Kyle Idleman dives into the book of Galatians, one that contains some of the clearest explanations of the gospel in the New Testament. Through biblical study and engaging lessons, Kyle shows that true freedom is found in surrender, not self-dependence. Because our gospel is not one based on our works, but faith in the finished work of Jesus Christ.

Feb. 22nd – Galatians 4:1-31

Mar. 1st - Galatians 5:1-26

Mar. 8th - Galatians 6:1-18
